The Potential

Hired Help PA is a proven license based model that allows you to work from home, dictating the hours that you want. Build your own virtual PA and telephone answering service in your local area, targeting small and medium businesses.

Why telephone answering? In short, businesses need it. Especially small businesses who are rushed off their feet but can't afford to take on full-time staff to handle calls. For a small business every missed call can be a missed sale or lead. You can see just how useful this service is for a business, that is what makes it such a great product to sell.

With over 4 MILLION small businesses in the UK there is a huge potential to grow your client base by just reaching out to local businesses.

- 4,800,000 Small Businesses in the UK
- Proven Business Model
- Leading Edge Technology
- 98% free trail conversion rate

What's more, you can also earn even more by recruiting other agents and taking a cut of their revenues. This allows you to earn extra without having to do all of the leg-work.

Who are Hired Help PA?

Hired Help PA was created under a group of technology companies. The system used by HHPA was developed initially for internal use by staff, but eventually it was realised that the power of the technology could be harnessed for other uses.

Hired Help PA was born. The mixture of leading edge technology and a drive to improve on the quality of telephone answering services meant that HHPA became quickly established in the market.

Having built a solid brand and an outstanding reputation it was clear there had been a gap in the market for a PA/call answering service that offered a higher level of professionalism and functionality.

After several successful years of providing exceptional service, Hired Help PA now licenses out the model to allow independent agents to develop under the respected HHPA brand in order to keep up with demand. The licence allows HHPA to grow whilst home-based agents can earn a flexible income.
